

Granting the petitioner's request would pose a high risk of interference to government radio services and licensed amateur radio operations. Visiting non-licensed individuals should have no expectation of operation of equipment that is not otherwise permitted in the United States. If the individuals wish to use a similar type of equipment in the US, they can purchase FRS radios at very reasonable prices once they arrive here.